

Getting child safeguarding right

Resources for webinar attendees

Thank you for attending the webinar, Getting child safeguarding right. We hope you enjoyed the discussion and took away some practical tips to help you create a safe and inclusive environment for tamariki and rangatahi to thrive in sport. We've created a list of resources for you to take away to share with your peers and organisations.

Sport NZ Integrity

This is the home of Integrity at Sport NZ. Whether you're new to what integrity in sport looks like or part of an organisation on their journey to a safer environment for all, this page contains a range of resources, information and e-learning to help you on your journey.

Community Guidance Portal

The community guidance portal will help you embed child and member safety into your organisation's culture. The guidance will help your organisation think about and enhance your approaches to child protection, member protection, diversity and inclusion, match-fixing and gambling, anti-doping and organisational culture.

Policies and Procedures

The policies and procedures cover many integrity areas, such as child safeguarding, information sharing, privacy, code of conduct, and safer recruitment. Download and customise documents to suit your organisation's needs. You can use them to update your existing policies or to establish new ones. They're written and designed with clear and straight forward information, and to be easy to use.

Education and Training

Learn how you can help safeguard and protect play, active recreation and sport at all levels, for all New Zealanders. We have a suite of e-learning modules so you can take a deep dive into areas such as child safeguarding, competition manipulation and anti-discrimination in the play, active recreation and sport sector. This learning is available free of charge to anyone at any level involved in play, active recreation and sport, including parents, caregivers, whānau, coaches, administrators, and participants.

Safeguarding Children

Safeguarding Children are a registered charity in New Zealand providing expert advice when it comes to creating a safe, supportive environment for children. Sport NZ has worked closely with Safeguarding Children to create relevant resources and frameworks to support a safe, fair and inclusive sporting environment. A Child Safe Organisation places children and young people at the heart of what they do. A commitment to protecting children is embedded into the organisation's culture and is understood, accepted and acted upon.
